

MONEY FOR VETERANS.

THE HOUSE PASSES THE COM-
PROMISE PENSION BILL.

It Will Add a Quarter of a Million
Names to the Pension Rolls—Other
Washington News.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The compromise pension bill adopted in conference has been agreed to by the House. It is not entirely satisfactory to either Senate or House, but this seemed to be the only way out of the deadlock on the pension question. The House insisted on a service pension and the Senate wanted a dependent pension. The bill as finally adopted by the House is based on disability, instead of service or dependence, but in other respects contains substantially what was provided in the House bill. The chairman of the pension committee of the House puts the annual cost of the pension at $20,000,000, but this is generally regarded as a small estimate. Mr. Cannon gave as one of his reasons for voting for it that it would add 250,000 names to the pension rolls and increase the pensions of 50,000 persons now on the rolls.

An expert at the pension office says the act will involve a cost of $20,000,000 for the first year and an indefinite increase annually thereafter. It will place on the pension rolls 75,000 widows and 100,000 soldiers, without counting pensioned persons who will be increased because they are now drawing less than the amount authorized by the bill. It is impossible, he said, to definitely estimate at this time what amount the act will involve for the first year, but it will certainly be an immense sum. Some Republicans and many Democrats opposed the bill on account of the meagerness of the information the committee was able to furnish. When Mr. Morrill of Kansas presented the conference report on the Senate dependent pension bill, Mr. Springer of Illinois asked that the bill be referred until to-morrow in order that it might be printed in the Record and members be given an opportunity to examine its provisions, but Mr. Morrill objected.

The previous question was ordered—yeas, 115; nays, 76.

The conference report was agreed to—yeas, 143; nays, 56.

The speaker announced the appointment of Mr. Mills of Texas, as a member of the committee on rules, and Mr. Turner of Georgia, as a member of the committee on ways and means, to fill vacancies occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Carlisle, of Kentucky.

The Senate.—In the Senate adverse reports were made from the finance committee on Mr. Stanford's bill for government loans on liens of real estate, and on the bill to abolish money, and the bills were indefinitely postponed.

On motion of Mr. Edmunds a Senate joint resolution extending the jurisdiction of the Circuit and District Courts to the great lakes and their connecting waters was passed.

Mr. Morrill, from the committee on finance, reported back favorably and with sundry amendments, the House silver bill, and gave notice that at the proper time he would offer it as a substitute for the Senate bill.

The Senate silver bill was taken up and Mr. Eustis addressed the Senate.

After the silver bill had been laid aside the Senate took up the bill on the transportation of cattle to foreign countries (which was under discussion last Monday) was again taken up and passed without further discussion.

Mr. Vest having consented to the amendment offered by Mr. Hale inserting the words: "Not already contracted for in good faith by persons having cattle for transportation at the rate of such contract, sufficient to occupy such storage room."

The Senate joint resolution in regard to export trade in cattle was then taken up and adopted. It requests the President of the United States to cause correspondence and negotiation to be had with the authorities of Great Britain for the purpose of securing the abrogation of the restriction on the export of cattle to Great Britain from the United States to be slaughtered at the port of entry, and prohibiting the same from being carried alive to other places in said kingdom.

The Senate bill to provide for the inspection of live cattle and beef products intended for export to foreign countries was taken up and passed.

THE FENETIC FELLOWS.

An Effort to Be Made to Do Away with the Pagan System of Spelling.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The scheme to establish a chain of "fonetic" schools throughout the country bids fair to be carried to a successful issue, and that Chicago will be in the field seems to be generally understood.

The bill appropriating $50,000,000 for the establishment of these schools is now pending before the House and will certainly have a hearing before the present session has been concluded.

Senator Farwell and Congressman Mason and the majority of the Senators and Congressmen are lending their aid to the successful passage of the bill with an enthusiasm unexpected.

It is a Chicago enterprise purely and is being pushed vigorously by Charles A. Story, the secretary of the United States Phonetic company. He is now here and doing yeoman service in the cause.

To your correspondent Mr. Story said that he wished it distinctly understood that any criticisms or objections to the old and numerous methods of fonetic spelling heretofore offered to the public do not apply to the new science of spelling.

"The old fonetic methods," continued Mr. Story, "merely drop a few silent letters here and there—merely top off or trim down a few of the worst excesses from the old pagan systems of spelling. The science of spelling constructs all the words of all the languages by rule and leaves out all the silent letters. The old so-called fonetic spelling is no more like the science of spelling than an Irish wheel-barrow is like a locomotive engine, or a mud-suck like a Cunard steamer. There is no kind of resemblance or similarity. Those old plans are mere patch-work, mere tinkering, mere hacking and hewing. They only prop up, or attempt to brace, the old, decayed, and crumbling methods of the pagan ages. The science of spelling builds a new and modern structure in place of the old one, erecting the same on the solid foundation of science and common sense, with all the modern appliances demanded by our own land and time. Children can learn as much spelling in one month, using the rules of science as their guide, as they are learning now in two years. This has been proved many times."

The speaker also stated that he had received a letter from Prof. Swing of Chicago, in which that well-known divine and learned man highly praised the idea of establishing fonetic schools. He hoped the appropriation would be made, and as soon as possible. In writing on the subject the professor said that the introduction of the invention of electricity or steam was a grand and invaluable innovation, but to his mind the "fonetic" system of spelling would be far greater, when so established as to be in general use. Prof. Swing grew quite enthusiastic on the subject.

"The tariff bill and other questions under discussion will preclude a hearing of the 'fonetic' bill for at least a week or ten days," concluded Mr. Story. "Meanwhile I will be busy at work at home."

BOSTON'S BOODLE SENATORS.

Charges that Votes Were Offered for Sale to Elevated Roads.

BOSTON, June 12.—The charge of bribery and corruption urged against certain Massachusetts State Senators has proved the sensation of the hour here. The Senate took the matter up immediately upon its assembly this morning and a committee of investigation was appointed. This body at once began work, summoning George Fred Williams, the young Representative who preferred the charges, to name Senators and state his proof. The elevated railroad advocates and Senate lobbyists were on hand in force. Mr. Williams urged delay as he was not ready to produce his testimony. Pushed to a statement of what he really intended to show, he said: "I have evidence tending to show that a member of your honorable branch in consultation with persons representing one of the elevated railroad companies asking for a charter offered to 'produce his own vote as one of ten members of your honorable branch, which ten members he would 'deliver' or their votes for the sum of $100,000 for each Senator." The company involved, he said, was the Boston Elevated road, but that incidental to the charges would come up matters concerning the West End railroad. Mr. Williams will name the Senators alleged to have been concerned in the transaction and produce his proof to-morrow.

HAD TO SUSPEND.

Robert Warren & Co. of Chicago Forced to the Wall.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The members of the Board of Trade were furnished with a sensation this noon by the announcement of the suspension of the old and well-known firm of Robert Warren & Co. Mr. Warren has been a popular and heavy trader on 'change for many years and for a long time has been a decided "bull" in wheat and everything else. The failure has been a complete one. Quantities of "long" wheat, as well as a good deal of ribs and other products. This morning there was a collapse in wheat as a result of the government crop report, which was more bearish than had been expected. The wheat crop was represented as having been less damaged than trades had calculated upon. This morning prices were away off. Lots of "stop-loss" orders came out, and margins were freely called. Mr. Warren was unable to meet the calls made on his house for margin and consequently his suspension followed, his firm failing to pass through the clearing-house of the board of trade.

The failure is a heavy one and caused a further break in wheat. The liabilities are roughly estimated at $500,000. The assets are about the same.

WILLIAM O'BRIEN MARRIED.

The Famous Irishman Wedded to Mlle. Raffalovich of Paris.

LONDON, June 12.—The marriage of William O'Brien and Mlle. Raffalovich, daughter of the Paris banker, took place at the Church of St. Charles Barroome, the archbishop of Cashel officiating.

The church was crowded to the doors with a distinguished audience, which included nearly all the Irish members of Parliament. Prominent among the latter were Parnell, O'Connor, Sullivan, and McCarthy. Elaborate decorations of cut flowers and growing plants were scattered in confusion through the church.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien have left for Paris, where they will spend their honeymoon.

Rich Haul by Thieves.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., June 12.—Thieves broke into W. D. Norton's jewelry store last night and stole about $50,000 worth of jewelry. Among the articles taken were several hundred gold and silver watches, a number of chains, finger rings and many pieces of solid gold. Twenty diamond rings were also taken. The safe was blown open and the detectives on the case say the robbers were undoubtedly professionals.

SWEEP BY THE STORM.

WAPELLA, ILL., SUFFERS FROM A CYCLONE.

A School House Blown Down and Several Children Injured—The Channahon Storm.

CLINTON, Ill., June 12.—A heavy black cloud came up suddenly from the north-west followed by hail, a drenching rain, and a terrible wind.

At Wapella, four miles north on the Illinois River, the damage was done. A two-story building was unroofed and the upper story ruined. The M. E. church, a good-sized frame building, was blown away and Turner & Co.'s store torn nearly down.

The Davenport school house, east of town, was washed into a pile of ruins and five little school children were buried. All are yet alive, though one died.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., June 12.—At about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon a terrible rain and wind storm accompanied by thunder and lightning struck Jacksonville, doing considerable damage to the trees, fences, small buildings, etc. Streets and gutters were flooded. At Dewey Park, however, the greatest damage was done. Here about 1,500 people had assembled to witness the musical jubilee under the leadership of Prof. Harris of this city. A large tent had been erected and it was a ready victim for the furious wind. It fell, the poles falling in every direction, injuring several persons.

THE CHANNAHON STORM.

JOLIET, Ill., June 12.—A report reached this city last night that the little town of Channahon, located on the Du Page river, a dozen miles west of here, had been destroyed by a cyclone, and many people killed. The report created great excitement here, as many Joliet citizens have relatives at Channahon.

This morning a number of Joliet people drove to Channahon to investigate the reported devastation and death, but were agreeably surprised on reaching the town to find that although the town had been visited by a cyclone very little damage had been done, and as far as known, no lives were lost. Many houses and trees and out-houses leveled. A part of John Drew's residence was torn away without injury to the occupants. David Drew's barn and three horses were blown away with terrific force against some large trees. The horses were killed and the barn completely wrecked. The lighting and thunder were terrific, and the people were crazed with fright.

KEMMLER MUST DIE.

The Writ of Habeas Corpus Declared Vain.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 12.—Judge Wallace, on motion of Attorney-General Tabor, has vacated and dismissed the writ of habeas corpus in William Kemmler's case. The attorney-general appeared for the agent and warden of Auburn prison. In the judge's order he recited the facts of the issuing of the writ, and said: "This writ has served the office for which it was allowed, and there is no reason why it should remain in force. It was allowed because there seemed to be a question whether the sentence under which Kemmler was about to be put to death did not offend the fourteenth amendment of the constitution, and this question having been decided no further proceedings are in place."

Wherever Malaria Exists.

The bilious are its certain prey; In intermittent and remittent fever, dumb ague and ague cake, the liver is always seriously affected, and the blood contaminated with malarial poison. For these reasons why Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is such a sure defense against disease, it that it does away with liability to the disease, by reforming irregularity of the bilious organs in advance of the arrival of the season when the disease is prevalent. There is no finer fortifying preparation for those about visiting or emigrating to a locality where the malarial element exists. There is no certain immunity from disease in an endemic or epidemic form, to be secured by the use of the average tonics and anti-spa-modics. But where quinine fails the Bitters succeeds both in preventing and curing. Moreover, it removes every vestige of dyspepsia, and overcomes constipation, rheumatism, indigestion of the kidneys and bladder, and equalizes and strengthens the nervous system.

What is Scrofula

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly tumors or swellings, which cause painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the cause of pimples, cancerous growths, or many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors." It is a formidable enemy when consumption or cancer alone, for scrofula combines with worst possible features of both. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it. How can it be cured? By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proved its power in curing this disease. For all affections of the blood Hood's Sarsaparilla is unequalled, and some of the cures it has effected are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula in any of its various forms, be sure to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.

AMONG FAST STEPPERS
Third Day of the June Meeting of the Janesville Driving Park Association.
SOME VERY FINE SPORT WITNESSED THIS AFTERNOON.
A Large Crowd of People Present Who are Highly Pleased at the Fast Trotting and Racing.
This afternoon the largest crowd of the meeting were on the grounds. The grand stand was comfortably filled and many people came up in carriages. All day long people have been coming to the city on the train, and the carriages and street cars did a thriving business.
The day is indeed one for trotting. The track is as level as a floor and as spongy as could be wished.
Secretary McKinney wears a broad smile as he views the scene.
The races to-day were exceptionally fine, all being closely contested. It is the first warm day of the meeting and the immense and popular stands are doing a good business.
Many people are present from the neighboring cities, and indications point to a great day financially and for good racing too.
The first heat was between F. R. Boyce's pacer, Skylark, and G. E. Evans' Red Bassett. Both are fine animals. This race is a special for $100 and was a splendid exhibition. They got away well together with Ruth Bassett slightly in the lead. She held her lead until the stretch was reached when Skylark closed the space between them and finished first with Ruth Bassett on a run. It was a pretty race from beginning to end. Time, 2:30.
After a short rest they were again on the track and got away exactly together. Skylark had the pole but before the quarter pole was reached Ruth had the inside and was a length ahead. She held her lead to the end and finished first. Time, 2:30.
The 2:32 class trotting, was then called. In this class there are four entries. J. M. Grant, Oswego, Kansas, names Red Cloud, a bay gelding, A. D. Martin, Elgin, Ill., named Nellie Allison, brown mare, W. A. Elmyre, Oregon, Ill., names Kenneth Maid, chestnut mare. Chas. Craft, Chicago, names Ledger Girl, grey mare.
The horses were called at half-past one, and at a quarter past two o'clock they were on the track. After some scoring they got away in the following order:
Ledger Girl had the pole, Kenneth Maid second place, Nellie Allison third place and Red Cloud fourth place.
Nellie Allison immediately took first place and held it two or three lengths ahead, and the rest distributed in an even line. Nellie Allison came in first, Kenneth Maid second, Ledger Girl third and Red Cloud fourth. Time, 2:29. Nellie had a walk-away from the first, with Kenneth Maid second, her only competitor.
While waiting for the next race the third best of the special was called. They made a pretty race until the half mile pole when the trotter broke and the pacer passed to the front and won Time, 2:34 1/2. This settled the race, Skylark capturing the $100, and making a record of 2:30.
SUMMARY.
Skylark..... 1 1 1
Red Bassett..... 2 2 2
Time—2:30; 2:30; 2:34 1/2.
The horses in the 2:32 class then came out and after scoring some time, got the word go.
Nellie Allison took the lead again and held it all the way around, with Kenneth Maid a close second, Red Cloud third and Ledger Girl fourth. The judge, however, set Kenneth Maid back to fourth place, as she ran most of the way around.
SUMMARY
Nellie Allison..... 1 1
Kenneth Maid..... 2 2
Ledger Girl..... 3 3
Red Cloud..... 4 4
Time—2:29; 2:30; 2:34 1/2.
The 2:24 paces, with two entries, and the 2:29, with nine entries, have not yet been started at half past three o'clock, at which time the Gazette representative had to leave the stand. To-day is by far the largest day of the meeting, the attendance being fully twice as large as yesterday.
To-day's races were the best of the meeting so far, and the crowd on the ground was very large. The first event was a special heat between Ruth Bassett, owned by a man in St. Paul, and Skylark, a pacer. It was a pretty race. Ruth Bassett is a speedy mare, sired by Joe Bassett, and received her training on Mr. H. S. Woodruff's farm.
The other three events were the 2:32 class trotting, 2:24 paces, and 2:29 class trotting.
In the 2:32 class there are seven entries: J. M. Grant, Oswego, Kansas, bay gelding, Red Cloud; A. D. Martin, Elgin, Ill., brown mare, Nellie Allison; W. A. Elmyre, Oregon, Ill., chestnut mare, Kenneth Maid; Chas. Craft, Chicago, grey mare, Ledger Girl; H. D. McKinney, Janesville, bay mare, Phellamont Girl; Frank L. Smith, Janesville, chestnut stallion, Massicot; M. E. McHenry, Independence, Iowa, bay stallion, New-mont.
The four trotting paces have been three entries: C. H. Patten, Palestine, Ill., chestnut gelding, Westmont; Rooney & Bentley, Chicago, chestnut mare, Maggie R.; W. P. Maloney, Chicago, bay gelding, Jerry B. By.
The 2:27 race has ten entries. R. O. Allen, Freeport, Ill., bay gelding, Sena-tor; F. C. S. Pock, Minneapolis; French City; E. H. Broadhead, Milwaukee, Wis., bay horse, Sir Joe; John Finch, Stevens Point, grey stallion, Tyroch; James F. Chase, Oshkosh, Harmonis; Geo. W. Leiby & Son, Chicago, grey gelding, Knight; John B. Peterson, Crown Point, Ind., bay horse, Harry Medium; H. D. McKinnon, Phellamont Girl; L. A. Davies, Chicago, bay mare, Kate B.; A. W. Dennison, Eldorado, Kas., Dan H.
YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.
Yesterday afternoon the two events at the driving park were not decided until the Gazette had gone to press.
The 2:24 class was a magnificent race, the finish between Major Lynn and Merch being close in each heat. Major Lynn would keep the lead until the stretch when Merch would close up on him and some fast trotting was the re-

The Fourth of July Committee of Arrangements Assemble in the Council Chamber.
PREPARING FOR A GRAND FOURTH OF JULY JUBILEE.
An Outline of the Programme—Sub-Committees Appointed to Arrange All Details for the Day.
The general committee appointed by the citizens' meeting to make arrangements for the proper celebration of the Fourth of July, held a preliminary meeting last evening in the common council chamber. The committee members were nearly all present, only one or two being absent. Dr. Henry Palmer, the chairman, presided, and in calling the committee to order, stated the objects of the meeting to be to arrange for the celebration of the Fourth of July.
On motion of Ald. W. T. Vankirk, John C. Spencer was elected secretary. Dr. Palmer remarked that the committee had been instructed to confer with the managers of the Old Settlers' Association, and to endeavor to arrange the respective programmes that all would work harmoniously.
Mr. Ezra Goodrich, president of the Rock County Pioneer's Association, being present, was called upon for information relating to the celebration of the pioneers to be held on the fair grounds on the Fourth of July. Mr. Goodrich stated that the Old Pioneer's Association were willing to join with the citizens in the celebration and would arrange their programme as to give Janesville the forenoon and evening and they would occupy the afternoon with an oration by Senator H. A. Cooper, of Racine, games and other amusements.
After considerable preliminary discussion Ald. Mike Childs moved that Janesville have a celebration, which motion was adopted.
I. O. Brownell moved that Mr. Cyrus Miner act as treasurer of the funds raised for the celebration. He had acted in that capacity on previous occasions and had given good service. Adopted.
Mr. Fred A. Vankirk moved that a committee of six be appointed to act as a finance committee—three on each side of the river. Adopted.
Messrs. Fred A. Vankirk, John F. Sweeney and Mike Childs were appointed as such committee for the west side, and I. O. Brownell, Charles D. Stevens and Herb V. Allen for the east side.
Mr. Fred A. Vankirk moved that a committee of five on programme be appointed, in order that a programme might be mapped out so as to give the committee on finance some basis to work upon. Adopted.
On motion Messrs. J. F. Sweeney, J. B. McLean, Frank N. Webster, H. V. Allen and Robert Bostwick were appointed as such committee.
Mr. M. Dougherty suggested that a chairman of the committee on programme confer with the Pioneer's Association so that the programmes would not interfere with each other.
Chairman Palmer thought it was understood by the committee.
On motion of J. F. Sweeney, Alderman W. T. Vankirk and Charles D. Stevens were appointed as a committee on music.
On motion of Alderman Vankirk Chairman Dr. Henry Palmer, of the general committee of arrangements, and the treasurer of the celebration fund, Hon. Cyrus Miner, were appointed as a committee to purchase the fire works.
On motion of Fred A. Vankirk the general committee of arrangements adjourned until Tuesday evening of next week, June 17th, at seven o'clock sharp, at the council chamber to listen to the reports of the finance and programme committees, and that the committee from the Pioneer Association meet with them if convenient.

The Chicago Tribune of yesterday contains the following forecast of the republican state ticket, conceding the nomination of Governor Hoard. The article was written by the Madison correspondent of the Tribune.
"The latest ticket that has been mentioned here runs about this way: Lieutenant-governor, A. P. Lovejoy; clerk of court, David Schreiner, of Grant; state treasurer, Peter H. Leonard, of Price; attorney-general, W. C. Williams, of Milwaukee; state superintendent of schools, J. B. Thayer, of Pierce; railroad commissioner, Adey Peterson, of Grant; insurance commissioner, W. T. Rymondson, of Dodge. Mr. Lovejoy has served in the state senate and is a gentleman of great popularity. Mr. Schreiner is a one-armed soldier and a Lutheran, but an earnest advocate of the Bennett law. He is a man of fine presence and recognized ability. Peter H. Leonard is well and favorably known all over the state. He is of Irish parentage, a Catholic, and a Bennett law man.
The many friends of Mr. Lovejoy in this city and throughout the county would heartily endorse the ticket so far as the lieutenant governorship is concerned. Mr. Lovejoy is recognized at home as a man of sterling integrity and capable of filling with credit to himself and honor to the state, any position on the ticket to which he might be called. His record in both the house and senate during the past six years, will bear the closest scrutiny, and his constituency would be pleased to see his name among the successful candidates for state preferment."

THERE IS MERIT IN IT
The Newspaper the Best and Most Profitable Advertising Medium for Merchants.
FACTS BASED ON THE EXPERIENCE OF A SUCCESSFUL MAN.
Some Valuable Hints for all Classes of Business Men to Carefully Consider.
[From the Commercial Union.]
We are indebted to Mr. Geo. F. Preston, manager of the Cleveland (O.) Plain Dealer, for the address of Mr. J. C. McWalters, a partner in, and manager of, the extensive retail clothing house of E. R. Hull & Co., of that city, which was given before a literary society, composed of the large number of employees of that firm, and which contains many good points in favor of the newspaper as a superior medium for advertising purposes over all other methods. From the fact that Mr. McWalters has for many years given his personal attention to the advertising of his house, he has gained such an experience on the subject, that his remarks on the subject are particularly interesting, and we publish them as a valuable endorsement in favor of newspaper advertising. The address is given in full, as follows:
"Are newspapers the best mediums for advertising the clothing business?" We emphatically say yes; and the reason is so obvious that we feel to see wherein the negative side will have a ghost of a show to make a single point. The newspapers are the best mediums for advertising the clothing business because of their universal and repeating circulation. With religious regularity they reach the homes of our humblest and most fastidious citizens. We said universal circulation—and we do not choose to modify it one iota, for, tell me, if you please, is there a hamlet, a palace, in all this glorious country, where there is not reading during the week of some kind of a newspaper. We do not claim that all cases a newspaper is regularly subscribed to and paid for, but we do maintain that a newspaper is read by some member of the family every week, more or less, even if it has to be borrowed from a neighbor; hence the superiority of newspaper advertising must be at once evident. But you will say in support of your "peasy" doggers that people do not read newspaper advertisements. Here is where you deliberately falsify, or else you are talking about something you know nothing about. The public do read advertisements. You of the opposition read them but you won't at this time admit it. You unconsciously read them not otherwise. Your eye glances at an attractive advertisement and you get an impression of the subject matter. The particular advertisement in to-day's paper impresses you no further, but I'll wager if your needs at the time require any article there enumerated your closest attention would be riveted to that particular spot in the paper, and you would read every syllable of that advertisement.
People's ideas, wants and circumstances are so dissimilar that we might advertise the same item 365 days in the year, and each day be advertising the article that especially interested a certain number of people. Wants manifest themselves; people do not have to create them; hence this very advertisement, unheeded by Mr. A. B. or C. D. last week or last month, is of vital interest to him this week and he scans it as eagerly as any other item of news; so, in fact, it is new to him. And this proves the advantage and efficiency of constant and persistent advertising, which cannot be done profitably except through the medium of newspapers.
You say we merely assume that advertisements are read; that we cannot prove it. My dear sir, in our experience we have had oral and written testimony from thousands upon thousands who, came or wrote in response to our advertisements stating they had read our advertisements in certain newspapers. In substantiation of which, and lest you doubt my statement, permit me to give you a circular demonstrating to you that you are reading to the letter I now hold in my hand, written upon the letter head of a banking institution in one of our interior towns dated April 25, a recent date, you observe:
"E. R. HULL & Co.—Gentlemen: Please send me six spring overcoats, the kind you advertise in Thursday's Plain Dealer."
How do you like that kind of testimony? That's right from the subscriber. How many millions of dollars and picture cards would we have to print and circulate before we managed to place one in the hand of this bank representative in a distant town? And this is only one of hundreds of letters of similar nature we receive yearly, not only from Ohio citizens but from almost every state and territory in the Union. Scores of these come from Florida, Tennessee and Alabama, and they are all in response to newspaper advertisements.
Advertising in newspapers is something like courtesies and marriage. The lower ones only the superficial charms of the maiden and think he is happy. The new bride, however, who has seen the advertisement and congratulatory announcement and congratulatory self that the money was well spent. The lover is married, and only after years of housekeeping does he fully appreciate the superlative worth of the maiden as wife; only now does the genuine happiness begin. The veteran advertiser is no longer experimenting or basking in the embers of hope; he has proven to his utmost satisfaction that the merit of his advertising has become a permanent proof of its utility by constantly increasing sales and from the thousands who have voluntarily testified in his presence that they came in response to his advertisements through the newspapers.
You ask: "Can a large business be done without any advertising?" Most assuredly, but it is a short time. How obscure would many of our popular men and women be to-day, particularly those who enjoy popularity suddenly, if it were not for the newspapers? How do you and I know of these celebrities who never visit our locality? The newspapers herald, advertise, make known their fame, and by constantly reading of their talents we become acquainted and acquainted with their particular accomplishments and discuss them just the same as though we had known them all our lives. And just so it is in the matter of constantly advertising one's business in the newspapers. The public become acquainted with you. In the home circle you and your business are talked about, and frequently by people who have never seen you or been inside your store. When the time comes that these very people need an article you have become constructively point for your establishment, and now the time they want to prove the truth of what they have so many times read. All now depends upon the integrity of the merchant whether he adds to the list of his regular patrons or sends them away disgruntled with his misstatements.
To be profitable advertising of whatever kind must be backed up by facts and every promise carried out with earnest fidelity, else all the newspapers and all other methods he may employ will not avail him. The earnest questioner of the merchant's business. We assume, therefore, that when you advertise "what you'll do, you'll do as you advertise," otherwise you might just as well throw just so much money in the fire. News papers do not contract with a merchant to sell for him certain articles or lots of merchandise, but simply to advertise "to make known"—to their readers that you say over your own signature that you have this certain article or stuff for sale at certain prices. If you make misstatements the newspaper are not to blame that the public, after being misled a few times, take no further stock in your announcements. You simply are at fault and you are self-condemned that you "cannot fool all the people all the time."

You may say if E. R. Hull & Co. like newspaper advertising so much, why do they not advertise? We say, yes, they do. A successful business, and he is not entitled to any special credit, either; like the large advertiser his business methods must be straightforward; honesty must permeate all his dealings; he cannot be a merchant prince any more than can his competitor who advertises liberally, but the integrity of both being unimpeachable, the man who advertises will outlast the man who does not. The man who advertises up to colonial proportions before the other one becomes well stated. You can see why, can't you? Because the customers of the one man are his only advertisers, hence his resources for dissemination of news about his merchandise and about his methods are as the rivulet compared to the great Niagara; consequently our claim, we think, is fully substantiated that the newspapers are the best medium to advertise the clothing or any other business.

PROGRESS.
It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be found to the taste and to the eye easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect, laxative and most gentle diuretic known.
FIFTEEN YEARS AGO.
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Richardson Celebrate Their Crystal Wedding Last Evening.
Fifteen years ago yesterday Mr. and Mrs. John W. Richardson were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony at San Prairie, Wisconsin. In order that the anniversary be properly commemorated, last evening about seventy guests assembled in response to invitation, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richardson No. 52 North High Street. On the lawn two large tents lighted with Chinese lanterns had been erected while the house was handsomely decorated with flowers. Refreshments were served and it was at last hour that the guests departed for their homes, each lady being presented with an elegant crystal souvenir of the occasion. The bride of fifteen years was also the recipient of many tokens of regard from the friends present. It was a very enjoyable affair, and one that all participants will always remember.
